Volume 11 / Number 3

December 1998 / January 1999

The next meeting of the Calhoun County Genealogical Society:

◆ "Collecting Oral Histories"

◆ Presented by Lorraine Johnson-Colman

◆ Tuesday, January 19, 1999 (3rd Tuesday in January)

◆ 7:00 p.m.

◆ at the Miller Stone Building (across from Willard Library in Battle Creek)

The Calhoun County Genealogical Society is pleased to partner with Willard Library and the Kellogg Foundation Expert in Residence program to bring Lorraine Johnson-Colman to Battle Creek. Lorraine is an author, folklorist and storyteller.

She has written Just Plain Folks, a book on sharing stories between generations, and is a popular lecturer, workshop leader and frequent commentator on National Public Radio. Her new 13-part program will debut on NPR January 5, 1999. Lorraine will be sharing ideas about gathering oral histories and will include anecdotes from her own experiences along with "how to" information. This program is free and open to the public.

The public is invited to more of Lorraine Johnson-Coleman's presentations brought to you at no charge by the Kellogg Foundation Expert in Residence program:

◆ "The Wisdom in Everyday Living"

president's ponderings

Another year draws to a close, and still my own genealogy lies gathering dust! My New Years' resolution? To apply for my own Pioneer Certificate! Yes, the project is still on-going. To date, 234 certificates have been issued, with more applications awaiting verification. As each "file" is completed, the information about these pioneer ancestors is being entered into a database. Eventually we will put it in booklet form, and include it in our list of publications. Feel free to check with Verla Potts, Project Chair, or Carol Slattery, who is doing the indexing, to see if work on your particular ancestor has already been done.

Those of you who were unable to attend our November meeting missed a good one. Representatives of the Mary Marshall Chapter DAR, Patty Parker and Margaret Parker, shared with us a brief history of Marshall's Governor's Mansion and the restoration work that has taken place during the past year. The CCGS was pleased make a $100 donation towards the restoration effort. Patty and Margaret also showed a fabulous video entitled "Time in a Bottle," which was filmed during the excavation of the old privy site behind the Governor's Mansion. What treasures were uncovered during the dig – old ink bottles, porcelain doll heads, pieces of pottery.

Our upcoming meetings should continue to be interesting and informative. Remember there is no December meeting. On January 19th we are joining Willard Library in hosting Expert In Residence Lorraine Johnson-Coleman – see the front page for details. In February, military historian Pierce Roberts will present "The Battle of Chickamauga," and in March, Shirley Hodges will speak on "What's in a Name." Other meeting topics under development include: Genealogy Hints and Anecdotes, Interpreting Land Records, and possibly a tour of Albion's Riverside Cemetery. Watch future newsletters and local media for more details.

Many thanks to Membership Chair Ilene Woodman for putting together the wonderful surname list that begins on page 38 of this newsletter. One of the great things about genealogy is sharing information with fellow researchers. The surname list allows you to locate other members who may be researching the same ancestors.

An important note to inform you of – we have a new address. Due to the remodeling of the lobby at the Marshall Post Office, we are now PO Box 879, Marshall, MI 49068.

We hope you enjoy this expanded year-end edition of Generations. The holiday season is a great time to "share an ancestor." Have you shared an attractively drawn ancestor chart with your aunt? Any old pictures you should copy for a cousin? Don't tell my sister, but I'm putting together an album for her of old family photographs! As family genealogist, I ended up with the boxes of old pictures. She's been asking me for copies, and it will be great fun to surprise her with a nice album.

I wish you and your families all the best during the holiday season and the upcoming New Year! Happy ancestor hunting!

queries

Following are the queries that have been received via the Rootsweb mailing list and conventional mail. Realizing that not everyone has access to the Internet, we are printing the queries on the Rootsweb list for you here. Unfortunately, most of the time folks who post to the Rootsweb site do not include their USPS address. If you are interested in responding to any of these postings and do not have an e-mail address, please write to the CCGS. We will attempt to put you in contact with the writer.

IS IT A BOY OR A GIRL?

In regard to deciding whether a 19th century picture is of a boy or a girl, the July/August issue of Family
Chronicle magazine had a letter from a reader, Lisa Yowell, relating what she had learned from a lecture by Diane VanSkiver Gagel at the National Genealogical Society conference. Ms. Gagel stated in her lecture that it is possible to determine whether the subject is a boy or girl by looking at the part in the hair. The center part in the hair was such a stringent requirement, that a side part always indicates that the subject is a boy. She also mentioned that the "off the shoulder" style of clothing was popular for both boys and girls. The

CONGRATULATIONS!

Congratulations are in order to Pat Geyer on the publication of her book, Sheldon L. Wight, His Story, Including His Civil War Diary—1865, Pvt. Co.
F, 6th Michigan Calvary. Pat has spent many years compiling and preparing this family history. While I haven't had the privilege of seeing her book yet, I am told it is extremely well researched and attractively presented. What a wonderful accomplishment, Pat! Please see page 18 of this newsletter for details on the book and information on how to order.

"Sheldon L. Wight, His Story, Including His Civil War Diary---1865, Pvt. Co. F, 6th Michigan Cavalry," ending the war at Appomattox and going on with the Powder River Expedition into Wyoming Territory.

The research is finished and the book is published about Leonard Wight's family who moved to Eaton County, Michigan from Lorain County, Ohio in about 1858. I have included some information about all his children Lydia, Francis B., Sheldon L., Alexander Mason, Reuben William and Abraham Lincoln Wight.

Included is the story of Sheldon Wight's life, and his diary from 1865 when he was in the 6th Michigan Cavalry Regiment in the Civil War. He writes of the raids in the Shenandoah Valley, and being at Appomattox when the treaty was signed. The part of the diary of special interest to Civil War historians is his daily account of being sent west at the end of the war from Washington D.C. to take part in the Powder River Expedition in Wyoming Territory. There a group of soldiers from the 6th Michigan built Fort Connor on the Powder River, and he was one of them. His records from the National Archives are included.

This Expedition isn't extensively documented so the Wight diary adds a bit to the history of the 6th Michigan Cavalry. His description of just getting to the Powder River is very interesting. It took about two months by rail, boat travel and horseback to get there.

The book covers Sheldon's family history from his birth in Ohio to his "running away" to the Civil War. After his return in 1866 to Benton Township he married Mary Ann Weaver and they migrated to Gratiot County Michigan as pioneers. His story continues until his death in 1919 in Elsie, Michigan. His photographs remain as a legacy for he became known as "the photographer of Elsie and the surrounding area." They moved to Elsie, Clinton County about 1904 from the village of Sickels, which he had platted with William Sickels in 1882. Records of this plat are included.

There are two taped interviews done years ago with his grandchildren, Vern Wight (my Dad) and Wilma Mitchell Wirebaugh, which have been transcribed and included in the story.

If you are interested in a copy of the book let me know. It has a hard cover, over 40 photographs, (most of them S. Wight originals), 2 color pictures, indexed, on glossy paper and very carefully researched. I started working on this in 1961. There are 238 pages. Vital records and land records are included plus newspaper research from 1860 to 1866.

It is a limited edition so its cost is $45.00 with $4.00 added for mailing. 250 copies printed.

History of Lee Township

Below is a synopsis of the Lee Township history as found in the 1877 History of Calhoun County. Originally published in 1877, the Calhoun County Genealogical Society had the History republished in March of 1998. See page 2 of this newsletter for information on how to order a copy.

In the spring of 1835 Amos HADDEN and Nicholas STANLEY entered and occupied a part of section 36, in the southeast part of the town. The former yet resides on the old place. His neighbor, Mr. STANLEY, lost his life in the caving in of a well in which he was at work. In 1837 a child of Mr. STANLEY became lost in the woods and created an excitement not soon forgotten. One evening Mr. STANLEY, hearing the tinkle of the cow-bell a short distance from the house, started his son, a child of six years, into the woods to drive the cows home. The cows soon came in, but the boy was not with them, and repeated calls brought no reply. Immediate search was instituted and fruitlessly maintained for three days. The neighbors, turning out, scoured the country for an area of ten miles. The child was found at last, distant from home but a short half mile. He sat at the foot of a tree with his back leaning against it, and was dead. He had perished from cold and hunger. The Rev. Mr. Hobert officiated at his funeral, at which were held the first religious services in the town.

In 1836, Abram HADDEN, a brother of Amos, took up his residence in the vicinity, and simultaneously, several of his old neighbors from New York settled in Clarence, Sheridan, and Marengo, thereby forming what has since been known as the "Rice Creek Settlement." Benjamin THOMAS, a settler of 1836, in Marengo, from Sardinia, Erie county, New York, removed in 1839 to a farm situated in the central northern part of the township. B. S. WARD settled near the Eaton line, in the northern part of the town, and lives there at this time. In 1840, D. P. WOOD, for one or two years a resident of Albion, desirous to improve his condition, set out for Clarence, and made his way around Duck lake into Lee. A log hut was built, and unchinked, occupied till fall. It was his home for two years. In August, 1840, some land cleared was in crop, when Mr. WOOD was married to Maria PAYNE, of Jackson County.

Among those of other early settlers we find the names of Stephen ALDRICH, F. GARFIELD, John WEAVER, T.S. HAVENS, Charles R. THOMAS and Jesse ACKLEY. Early in 1836 Sidney S. ALCOTT located the major portions of sections 6 and 7. During the year following he built a saw-mill on a branch of Indian creek – a small creek running through the northwest part of the township. The mill was operated for several years by F. GARFIELD, but being burned was never replaced. It was the only water-power saw-mill built in the township.

A stock company was formed in 1844 by G. W. DRYER and others, and known as the "Dover Company." They purchased a large body of land in the vicinity of what is now called Partello Post-Office, and began the erection of a mill, which they failed to complete. In time the property was purchased by J. R. PARTELLO and a saw-mill erected. The first white child [born in] Lee was James, son of Nicholas STANLEY, born July 31, 1836. The first female child was Dorcas J. HADDEN, daughter of Amos Hadden, born October 4, 1838.

LORRAINE JOHNSON-COLEMAN

Here is the remainder of the schedule for Lorraine Johnson-Coleman during her stay in Battle Creek. In addition to her Tuesday presentation (please see the cover of this newsletter for details), many of her other topics should prove to be of interest to genealogists and historians.

Thursday, January 21, 1999; 9:30 - 10:30 a.m.

"The Wisdom in Everyday Living"

Program open to the public at the Federal Center, French Room (park in visitors' lot; use Washington St. entrance)

Lorraine Johnson-Coleman says: "We all have an 'Aunt Betty' or 'Uncle Alvin,' it's just that you don't talk about them all over the country like I do!" There are some wonderful (and some not-so-wonderful) stories within all of us and our families. Come and enjoy humorous, thought provoking and heartwarming tales of everyday living with this phenomenal storyteller. Books will be available for purchase and author book signing following the program, courtesy of ABC Boutique.

Friday, January 22, 1999; 5:00 - 6:15 p.m.

"Just Plain Folks: Sharing Stories Between Generations"

Burnham Brook Senior Center - free and open to the public.

We know who we ARE by whom we have come from... This is a terrific opportunity to get started on your OWN family history stories - perhaps you'd like to invite an adult child or teen/adult grandchild to share this program with you! Books will be available for purchase and author book signing following the program, courtesy of ABC Boutique.

Saturday, January 23, 1999; 7:30 p.m.

"Just Plain Folks: Wisdoms from the Front Porch"

Free public program at Discovery Theatre will feature a powerful combination of the poetry and storytelling of Lorraine Johnson-Coleman with the blues talents of "Little Pink" Anderson and Freddy Vanderford - the "Legacy Duo." It will also include acoustic guitar and harmonica solos by this talented duo. This performance is the basis for the 13-part NPR series to air nationally beginning in January 1999. Seating is limited. Please call the Community Box Office at Discovery Theatre to make a reservation - 441-2710.

On the following page is the continuation of the story we published on pages 6 and 7 of the August/September 1998 edition of Generations. The story gives an account of a trip taken by CCGS member Elma Carpenter, her sister Virgene Franks, and their cousin Nancy Bard to their ancestor's homeland in the Czech Republic. What a thrill to be able to walk the soil of an ancestor, particularly in their native land! Following the summary of the story is a descendancy chart for their ancestor Josef Bures.

CONTINUATION, THE JOSEF BURES FAMILY OF THE CZECH REPUBLIC

Next we went to Lestina where John Vaclav Bures, oldest child of Josef and Anna Franek Bures was born. We stopped at the town hall, and the clerk there showed us where house No. 50 was located. It is occupied by a Jaroslav Bures, son of Frantisek and grandson of Josef. He could not remember his grandmother's name. The town clerk said Jaroslav is not married. She had previously told Marie in a phone call that Jaroslav Bures was "strange." We knocked on the door of the house and Marie visited with Jaroslav. Other than his father's name and his grandfather's name, he did not have any information.

We walked back down the hill towards the town hall. On the way Nancy took a picture of an old wooden pump and trough. The town clerk said that was where the women in the village used to do laundry. When we arrived back at the town hall the clerk looked up the name of the owner of house No. 10. House No. 10 is the former home of Anna Kulhavy who married Josef Bures, who were the parents of Josef Bures who married Anna Franek. The house is still owned by the Kulhavy family and is used as a weekend home. There is a fruit cellar in the side of the hill. Again more pictures were taken. They keep a lovely garden there. The town clerk said the owners live in Vysoke Myto. There are 150 permanent residents in Lestina. The lady in the town office also keeps land records for four other villages - a total of 350 records. Maria told us the vital records for all of the villages were kept in Proseč. The town clerk also said there was a pipe factory in Proseč.

On to Proseč and the pipe factory. We bought pipes as souvenirs because they were made in the area where our ancestors lived. A lady working there also gave us several pipes that did not pass inspection, and told Marie to hide them while another man was in the office making out paper work for the pipes we were buying. Then on to the town hall. The clerk was not there. She was across the street at the museum with a Czech TV crew that was filming. We went to the local Pub for lunch (3:30 p.m.) When she was through at the museum the town clerk came to get us. We went to her office. She had the original birth, marriage and death indexes. The records themselves are now in the archives in Zámruky. She also had borrowed the church records from the priest at the church in Nove Hrady. They are records which begin in 1630. There are several references to when the church was renovated. When the graves were causing the side wall and roof to collapse, the roof was replaced with a tin roof and steel rods were anchored to the outside walls to pull the walls together.

The town clerk of Proseč checked her records and told us Josef Bures died 16 Feb 1902 at the age of 77, which means he was born in 1831. His wife, Anna Kulhavy, died 31 July 1875.

Josef married again to Magdalene (whose maiden name was Severova), from the village of Makov, house No. 33, widow of Vaclav Bartak from Libecina. Magdalene was born 2 Jan 1838 and died 15 Sep 1908. She and Josef had two children:

1. Anna who died 21 June 1913 at age 16
2. Vaclav who died 24 Nov 1913 at age 11

The marriage records showed that Josef Bures, son of Josef Bures and Anna Kulhavy, was married 23 Feb 1886 to Anna Franek in the church at Nove Hrady.
