March 27 Meeting –

Our March meeting featured one of our own members, Jim Jackson, who gave a presentation entitled “Getting It All Together.” The presentation was an enjoyable demonstration of telling a family’s history through the use of a wide variety of source materials.

At the meeting, a call was made to the membership regarding several open positions. Two of our members rose to the occasion and have accepted responsibilities for Publicity and the newsletter Editor positions.

Jim Jackson has accepted the Publicity officer position, and Ann Heisler has accepted the newsletter Editor position.

April 24 Meeting –

Our feature presentation in April will be made by James Moses, Chairman of First Families of Ionia County. The topic of his talk will be “Strange Facts in the Census.” The meeting will be held at our usual time, 7:00 p.m. at the Gifford Schultz building in Marshall. Feel free to bring along a friend or two.

President’s Message

This month I’d like to take a few moments to recognize the efforts of some of our hard working volunteers in the Records Preservation committee.

Maureen Vire and her band of preservationists have been hard at work at the Calhoun County Courthouse. For the last five years they have been filming county probate records that had never been transferred to microfilm.

As a result of the Records Preservation Committee’s hard work, the CCGS has recently been able to assist Willard Library in Battle Creek by facilitating the addition of 199 rolls of “missing” Probate microfilm records. These rolls serve to help fill a gap in the records already held at the library, which formerly ended at record 6996 and resumed at file 23-785. The additional records now document files 6997 through 17-172.

Through the combined contributions of Cindy Rude, Calhoun Probate Court Register, Maureen and her volunteers, and George Livingston, Local History Librarian at Battle Creek Willard Library, these additional records are now available as a public genealogy resource.

For their excellent work in gathering and preserving these records, I would like to thank the Records Preservation Committee—Maureen Vire, Gloria Huff, Elma Carpenter, Virginia Hart and Cindy Kulig. Please join me in thanking these members when you see them at our next meeting.

If you are interested and available during business hours M-F and would like to volunteer for the Records Preservation Committee, please contact Maureen.

-Chris Rau, President CCGS

A Note from the Editor...

This edition of the Generations newsletter was assembled by an interim editor—your President. I’m glad to say that this should only be a one-time occurrence, as we have a new Editor, Ann Heisler, taking the reins for our future editions. Ann has a lot of good ideas and will be taking this publication in new directions that we should all find interesting and useful.

Don't Forget the Women

by Betty Malesky

March is Women's History Month. First celebrated in California in March 1978 as Women's History Week, it went national in 1981. Congress voted in 1987 to expand the national celebration to encompass the entire month of March. Today Women's History celebrations have sparked a new interest in uncovering women's forgotten heritage.

For too long, women were the forgotten links in our ancestry, recognized only as the mother of a man's children. Traditional genealogies followed only the male line. If a man had no sons the family was said to have "daughters out" and the line was dropped at that point. As genealogists today, we owe it to our female ancestors to try to learn as much about their lives as possible.

Women are difficult to research. Prior to the twentieth century we had few rights. We couldn't vote, seldom owned property, couldn't testify in court, didn't pay taxes, seldom left wills, weren't employed, and left few records normally relied upon by genealogists. Land records are one of the few sources where a woman's name appears. A man could buy property without his wife's permission, but law required her permission before he could sell. If she inherited property she couldn't dispose of it without her husband's permission.

As families began migrating west away from the early coastal settlements, births were seldom officially recorded. In the absence of birth records, the only link to a woman's family and her maiden name may be her father's will or estate settlement. Marriages were usually recorded even in frontier settlements; however the record may have belonged to a circuit rider or justice of the peace. A family Bible might contain clues to a woman's maiden name but locating the family member who owns the Bible today is another challenge. Research every name you find in a family's census entry; that strange surname may belong to a brother or other relative and can help identify your female ancestor.

To enliven a female ancestor's story, background material is available in books such as: The American Family in the Colonial Period by Arthur W. Calhoun, Dale Taylor's Everyday Life in Colonial America From 1697-1783, Jack Larkin's The Reshaping of Everyday Life 1790-1840, and Everyday Life in the 1800s by Marc McCutcheon. Become familiar with major events in American history and consider your female ancestor in light of her times. Don't judge her by today's standards but by those of her era.

When a woman remarried within months of her husband's death we may question her haste, but she probably had little choice. Women were often left with several small children when a husband died suddenly. Few early American women had experience handling money or conducting business. Widows were easy targets for the unscrupulous that preyed on them as they tried to keep the family together, work the farm and do all the household tasks.

Consider the women in your ancestry and determine to learn more about their lives. Study the history of areas in which your families lived and become familiar with all the available records that may help identify a woman's origin. ■

From the Mailbox:

Diane Goodboe of Ben Lomond, California writes to the CCGS:

"My mother has ownership of two, perhaps three, letters sent from Egypt, N.Y. to what was then the rural community of Marengo, Calhoun County, Michigan. One is definitely dated July of 1861, the other has a postmark we can't read.

Letter A is to Miss Mollie AUSTIN, author unknown. It is dated July 1st, 1861, lists as being written in Egypt, NY.

Letter B is to Miss Mary AUSTIN in care of P.A. AUSTIN, author is M.A. AUSTIN. Like letter A it is written from Egypt N.Y."

She has sent photocopies of the two letters, along with transcriptions. These are in the possession of the CCGS board.

Diane is interested in collaborating with anyone who might have connections to these letters. She also writes that she may have a Battle Creek connection through her paternal grandfather, Austin Baines RICHESON.

I would like to find my ancestors. Can you help me to find some details about Sadie Fandly? She married David Martin in Calhoun County, Mi, in 1883, 22 July.

Thank you!

From Mother to Son - Inscription in the Bible of William Adelbert Swader, from his mother Sarah Jane (Barker) Warrington, Central Squares NY, circa 1872 (Collection of C. Rau)

Remember love who gave you this, when other days shall come;
 When she who had thy earliest kiss sleeps in her narrow home;
 Remember 'twas a mother gave the gift to one she loved.
 And bade him keep the gift that when the parting hour should come,
 They might have hope to meet again In an eternal home.
 She said his faith in that would be Sweet incense to her memory.
 A parent's blessing on her son goes with this holy thing;
 The love that would retain the one most to the other cling.
 Remember, 'tis no common toy –
 A Mother's Gift! Remember, boy –
